Every breeder has a claim to the best bull they have ever raised. Stop by at any time or on sale day and evaluate him for yourself. Christine and Peter Boake both consider him to be the best they have pictured at Codiak. Del Ray comes from a long list of genetics that have put some fire into both domestic and export market. It was a joint decision between Wattle Grove and Codiak to share some of Del Ray's genetics. This will be the only sold in 2022.

Interpreting The Data

Conditions	Trait Report	Description
Coat Colour (CC)	HB - Homozygous Black HETB - Heterozygous Black RC - Red Carrier	Coat Colour genes determine red or black coat. Black is the dominant trait. With Homozygous Black animals, all the progeny will be black even when mated to recessive red animals. With Heterozygous Black animals, 1/2 of progeny will be black and 1/2 will be red when mated to recessive red animals.
Horned - Polled (H/P/S)	P - Homozygous Polled S - Heterozygous Polled (Scurred)	The polled allele causes animals to have an absence of horns and polled animals also may have a narrower skull. Polled is a dominant trait.
Myostatin (MYO)	C - Carrier NON - Non Carrier (Free of Myostatin)	"Double Muscling" - muscle hypertrophy, may have larger birth weights, increased dystocia and increased tenderness. Animals are extremely muscled, with abnormally large, wide and rounded rump and thighs with prominent creases between muscles.

What to do with the data?

Knowing the free, carrier or affected status of cattle in a herd helps reduce and/or eliminate risk of propagating the disorders in future generations. If cows are free, you can choose a bull based on his genetics and/or phenotype that best fits your breeding objectives, whether or not he is a carrier. If cows are carriers or from carrier lineages, mate them only to non-carrier bulls. Replacement heifers from these matings should be DNA tested and/or mated to a non-carrier bull.

Genetic Testing

INTERESTED IN TEST RESULTS ON HERD SIRES? Many of the sires represented by offspring in this catalogue have been tested for a variety of genetic markers. Please contact any of the owners to request results for homozygous polled, red carrier, Myostatin, Leptin, PMCH, igf2, or chH4.
